Thank you for attending this event.

PLEASE NOTE:

This presentation is being provided to other remote locations. As a courtesy to all sites, please follow these few suggestions:

- Please switch your phones to “vibrate” during this event.
- Please keep your location on “mute” until you have input, questions or comments. This allows all sites to remain focused on the primary speaker(s).
- When asking a question of the presenter, please state your name and location prior to your question. This will allow your location to become visible to all sites.
